Demise of Mrs. Jevne

It is our sad duty to record the demise of Mary, beloved wife of Mr. T. R. Jevne, who passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Alex Cummings, five miles east of the city on Tuesday of this week. The end came quite suddenly, as heart failure is attributed as the cause of the demise. She was a native of Norway, but emigrated to America when a young lady. She was aged 61 years, 1 month and 10 days. She was an old-timer in the district and was highly respected by all who knew her. The funeral takes place from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Cummings on Friday, November 26, at 2.30, the cortege proceeding to Wang cemetery, where the remains will be tenderly laid away.

The Times wants all the news, particularly the local events, all the time and anyone who knows the particulars of such occurrences as make good news, would confer a great favor on the chief pencil pusher of the old rag if they would phone or call at the office.

Civic Elections

Although the date for nominating candidates to fill the several vacancies on the council and school boards in this city is close at hand, little or no interest is being taken in the annual event. Nomination date is set for Monday-December 6.

Mayor Angus is the only man who has announced himself as a candidate for the honored position, and it appears as though he will be re-elected by acclamation. Ald. Compton, Cutler and MacBachern retire automatically from the council board, and of these Ald. Cutler and MacBachern decline to consider standing for re-election. We understand Ald. Compton will accept a seat on the aldermanic board. The only other possible candidate mentioned for the council is Mr. A. Stewart Watt, who is considering the matter. The members of the council who do not retire until next year are Messrs. Chat, H. Boyer, Geo. Gothard and Dr. N. A. Oldrag. If they would phone or call at the office.

public school board are Messrs. R. W. Manley, D. MacBachern and Dr. W. Dixon, who has tendered his resignation. We believe Messrs. Manley and MacBachern will be candidates for re-election. The only other name mentioned for the public school board is Ald. Gothard, who has announced his intention of becoming a candidate. The members remaining on the board for another term are Messrs. J. F. Ellis and Dr. Stevenson.

Messrs. J. J. Christopher and J. D. Cowan retire automatically from the board, and it appears as though they will be re-elected by acclamation. The members of the board who do not retire until next year are Messrs. J. F. Ellis and Dr. Stevenson.

Communication

(We do not necessarily endorse the sentiments advanced by this or any other correspondent under this heading.—Ed.)

New Norway, Nov. 15, '15
To Mrs. Nellie McIlm, Edmonton, Alberta.

Dear Madam:
With regard to the much discussed
Jennie Hawkes case. It is a matter of much surprise and indignation to the residents of this district, who knew Mrs. Stoley well, that since the trial of Mrs. Hawkes, and in the agitation for the commutation of her sentence, so much that is vile and slandrous has been heaped upon the name of Mrs. Stoley, the murdered woman.

Steps are being taken in this district to place before the public in a clear and forcible way, the real facts of the case, and to effectively silence
the authors of the articles now appearing in all papers, which articles
I am informed, give fair grounds for libel action on the part of those interested.

We have wondered if the writers of these articles have stopped to consider that it might be very difficult to prove the statements made.
In this country where Mrs. Stoley lived for two years, no one who knew her noticed anything unusual in her character. She was known by everyone in the district to be a perfectly upright woman. Does it not look suspicious that the Rosers and Mrs. Hawkes were the only people who noticed her moral deficiencies and that their statements of those few could outweigh the evidence of the neighborhood?

However, we are writing to vindicate
the character of Mrs. Stoley, and on behalf of her motherless children, and it is not our purpose to emerge upon the character of the condemned Mrs. Hawkes.

We would ask you to note the following facts with regard to Mrs.
Stoley's life in Canada, in her old home in the States, she was known as a woman of upright character.
In the month of August, 1913, Mr.
Mrs. Stoley came to Canada
with their three children. Mr. Stoley secured work on a farm and a rented a house near by for his family.
By careful management he and Mrs. Stoley supported their family on the small wages of a farm laborer.

The woman who worked so hard and conscientiously, who trained and tenderly cared for her three children,
it was not the woman you pictured in your article of November 8.

Is it possible that a woman of Mrs. Stoley's sterling qualities would steal the love of an old man of sixty-two years, she herself being only twenty-eight?

We believe that if you had acquired more carefully into the facts of this case, you would not have written such slanderous statements about a woman who lived so nobly and decently.

As a mother and wife she could not be commended too highly. But in the face of these facts she is being
slandered from one end of the province to the other merely to please the leaders of this movement, failed
to acquaint themselves of these facts.
In some of the articles that have been published, it was stated that
"for months and months, Mrs.
Hawkes had been taunted, jered at,
and mocked by Mrs. Stoley."
Now these are very untrue statements. Mr. and Mrs. Stoley and a family had only been living in part of Mr. Hawkes' house a few days before these weeks. Mr. Stoley having purchased a quarter section of land from Mr. Hawkes, moved into part of the house until he had his own house ready to take his family into.
I think had the writers of these various articles acquainted themselves with the facts of these facts before committing themselves to the newspapers it would have been much better for both parties concerned.

Yours truly,
Mrs. Stoley,
New Norway

so tragically. We believe it is the greatest injustice to a dead woman
and her family on record.

All we ask is an investigation,
which will certainly lead to the vidication of Mrs. Stoley's character.
Womans' Institute,
New Norway,
per Mrs. Catharine Petter, pres.

New Norway, Nov. 20.
To Mrs. Arthur Murphy:
On November 15th last there appeared an article or rather a copy of a plea made by you for the clemency of Mrs. Hawkes, on the following grounds—overbearing provocation, patient kindness of Mrs.
Hawkes.

These seem to be your principal reasons for seeking the clemency of Mrs. Hawkes. It is all well enough to seek the clemency of Mrs. Hawkes.
It would be well for you to do this by other means than by slandering
an innocent woman who is not alive
to defend herself.

The friends of Mrs. Stoley would like you to prove either of those statements. I will call your attention to the fact that you have committed yourself to the newspapers and that your statements have been read by thousands.

Now, I wish you to dwell on the thing that it means to her three children who are growing up, think of the injustice you have done to these little children as well as to their mother, who in every respect was a good mother.

Mrs. Stoley's murderer was "told before a judge and jury, who considered every atom of evidence and after deliberating for merely a few minutes returned a verdict of guilty."
During this trial there was no proof given that would imply that there was a blench on Mrs. Stoley's character. There were witnesses present at the trial to testify to Mrs.
Stoley's good character, but were not called upon to do so, simply because there wasn't anything proven against her character.

So why do you women so badly
attack this woman's character?
You said, "God in the Heavens,
all's right with the world."

We should all be very glad of the fact that it is God's judgment, not woman's, that counts.
I will state here that it will be utterly impossible for you to prove these statements made against Mrs.
Stoley. There was not a finer woman in our neighborhood than the woman who was murdered without the least cause or justification. And I feel that I speak for every woman who had become acquainted with her.

As a mother and wife she could
not be commended too highly. But
in the face of these facts she is being
slandered from one end of the
province to the other merely to
please the leaders of this movement, failed
to acquaint themselves of these facts.

been published, it was stated that

Yours truly,
Mrs. Stoley,

BESS COLLAPSE OF GERMANY
BEFORE THE END OF
NEXT YEAR

Toronto, Nov. 22.—That the war will end by Germany's collapse by the beginning of the winter of 1916-17, and that Canada and America by reason of the extent of their land, will be the chief beneficiaries of the renaissance of progress and prosperity to follow, were the encouraging predictions of C. W. Barron, president of the Wall Street Journal, who addressed the Toronto Canadian club today.

It might well be asked, said Mr.
Barron, where the United States stood? It is well to hear from when barrage are at the front door, he commented, amid laughter. But the United States was getting arms. She was building them for the British empire, too. She had never before floated a loan for half a billion dollars, but she had done so for the allies, "and this was only the beginning."

"Such financial brains as I have told me that Germany cannot go through another winter of war after this," said Mr. Barron, in dealing with the prospective length of the struggle.

Drill and training will be voluntary, and will entail no expense on the public.

In time of emergency the reserve
militia or any part thereof, is li-ble to be called out on Active Service anywhere in Canada.

The government will not undertake to provide the reserve militia except when called out on Active Service,
either with horses or with vehicles,
harness, saddlery, arms, ammunition
accessories, clothing or other articles of equipment, personal or recimen-tal.

Officers and men will not be entitled to transportation, subsistence, pay or allowance, except while on active service, when they will be ranked for rank, as though they belonged to the Active Militia.

Except while on Active Service an officer of the Reserve Militia may relinquish his commission at any time,
or a man may claim his discharge after 30 days' notice in writing, to his commanding officer.

The Governor in Council may, at any time, demand any time, or portion of a unit, if he considers it advisable to do so.

MUST NOT KEEP STRAYS

Edmonton, Nov. 22.—The taking up of stray animals has been the original cause of several arrests recently in the criminal courts and it should prove a warning to all that it is dangerous to follow the maxim that "finders are keepers and losers seekers."

Anthony J. Mackey on the charge of taking, holding and branding and selling a bull was tried yesterday in the district criminal court. He pleaded guilty and witnesses for the defence testified as to his previous good character. Before imposing sentence His Honor Judge Taylor said:

"No doubt you have heard that 'Honesty is the best policy.' There is nothing that pays a man better than honesty. For the sake of getting about $40 or $50 see not only what you have been out in money but also the loss in peace of mind. The fact that you plead guilty would be torture to an honest man. In this country it is a most serious offence to take up and keep stray animals. I can't let you off on suspended sentence for it would then be a temptation to others to do the same thing. Some sentence must be passed as a warning to prevent the taking up of stray animals. The offence under the law carries a maximum penalty of 14 years. Therefore, I can't let you off so very leniently. You have an honest record and plead guilty to this your first offence, but as a warning to others I impose a fine of $100 or three months at Fort Saskatchewan."

SOLDIERS WILL BE TRAINED TO TEACH SCHOOL

An important change in the regulations of the provincial department of education by which facilities will be offered for the training of returned soldiers as teachers, was announced by the Hon. J. R. Boyle, minister of education.

Mr. Boyle would welcome teachers of this kind in the greatest difficulties hitherto have been to teachers trained in the province have stayed in the profession only from three to five years, at the end of which time the majority of the girls get married, and the men become associated with more lucrative fields of endeavor. A soldier who has been in the army or navy would be more likely to become permanently identified with the profession, and his employment would also be an act of service. It has been decided that returned soldiers will be admitted to the normal schools for training as teachers if they possess educational qualifications equal to grade 10, which represents at least one year less of high school work than the normal standard. After taking the normal course, the men will be given an opportunity to cover the other year of high school work by easy stages over a period of years, so that the study would not seriously interfere with their teaching.

EDMONTON ACCEPTS OFFER OF HYDRO ELECTRIC

Edmonton, Nov. 22.—The agreement between the city and the Edmonton Power Company, whereby the latter gets the exclusive privilege to supply hydro-electric power to the city, after thirty years was approved yesterday by the council of the city. The vote was 10-0. For, 7,885; against, 5,227. The majority of 2,658. The city, according to the agreement, must at first take a minimum of 20,000 k.w.h. per year at the price of 13 cents per k.w.h. and the price decreases to 10 cents per k.w.h. as the lowest price.

The Edmonton Power company will build an immense dam sixty miles up the Saskatchewan river and contract to spend $6,000,000 in addition to an electric railway which is also to be taken for the power site. Four years are allowed for the building of the plant and in the meantime the company takes over the city steam power plant which they will operate and sell power to the city.

There was a hard fight over the agreement, which was strongly opposed by Mayor Henry and a number of prominent lawyers who contended that the contract was an unfair one to the city. There is still to be decided whether a two-third or sixty per cent majority is needed and this question will be threshed out in the courts. If the agreement is held to be a franchise, a question on which there is some doubt, the majority today will be large enough to carry its passage.

Probably the largest shipment of hogs ever made from this place by one individual at one time was made yesterday by Harry Snyder, from the northeast of Alberta. He had 148 head to H. B. Hopfe, the total weight being 37,550 lbs. It required four cars to handle them. Mr. Hopfe went to Calgary with the shipment. We are informed that Mr. Snyder will make another shipment next week.—Daily Land Press.

Ragan-Abbott Nuptial

A quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Gates of Vegreville when their sister, Miss Violet Abbott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Abbott, of this city, was joined in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Reuben Ragan, of Vegreville. Miss Maude Abbott, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, while Mr. Horace Smith performed the duties of groomsmen.

The bride was becomingly attired in white satin with silk chiffon and carried a bouquet of orange blossoms. The bride wore a cream crepe chemise dress. The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with black velvet hat.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. H. Hughes of Vegreville, and only a few of the most intimate friends and relatives were present. The happy couple left on the midnight train for Innisfree and other eastern points to spend their honeymoon. On their return they will reside in Vegreville where Mr. Ragan will continue with his store duties. All join in wishing them a long and prosperous married life.

FREE WHEAT

From one end of Canada to the other thought has centered upon the question of getting our wheat to the American market. The question has two aspects. One is the principle involved in the question of free trading, and the other is the incidents connected with the practice.

On the face of it one would hardly think that there could be any objection to our uninterrupted trade in a wholesome commodity such as wheat. It seems incredible that the people can do an objection to the principle of liberty of trade in wheat between Canada and the States. Yet there is a large element in this country who seem to think that by denying ourselves the advantages of the American market we develop a commercial independence and fortitude which it is claimed is good for us. Discussion upon the principle involved in selling grain upon the highest price is, however, usually dropped for consideration of the incidents of the trade.

In this department of thought there may be a measure of evidence pro and con. One can find in the fact and draw a wrong conclusion from it, then go from this to prove almost anything. A fertile imagination can conceive of keeping the identity of our wheat seems to be the great bugaboo; just as if we sold certificates of grade to be manipulated and depreciated when we sell our wheat to be ground. Also here is endless discussion over the point as to whether the difference in price between here and Minneapolis will disappear with the removal of the duty. Some advocate of free wheat claim that the wheat will rise to the American level, while opponents claim that the American prices will sink to the Canadian level. As boys most of us have dammed our streams, and so created two water levels, then have broken down the dam and have seen the high water level fall and the low water level rise, and on the whole the stream flows more evenly. This is exactly what would happen if the tariff on wheat removed, chiefly would the wheat flow to market more smoothly.

WHEAT PATE DORS

It is said how some men have been practically kicked into their proper places by fate, says a writer in the Calgary Herald. Men will cling to misfortune by the hair of their heads, and make the break of their own accord that would mean prosperity and happiness for them. And sometimes a man's untimely fate will step in and take the whole business out of their hands.

The writer recalls the case of an acquaintance who worked for years in a silverplate factory at an ordinary wage, marrying and getting a family of small children. Business went bad and he was let out. For a month or two he was nearly crazed by the hopelessness of his prospects.

Heart Would Beat Violently. Nerves Seemed to Be Out of Order.

The heart always works in sympathy with the nervous system. If the nervous system is working properly the heart is working properly. The heart and Nerve Pills will build up the unstrung nervous system, and strengthen the weak heart, so that the sufferer will enjoy the very best of health for years to come.

Mrs. John N. Hicks, Huntsville, Ont., writes: "I am sending you my testimony for the benefit of I have received from using Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. As a nerve and heart builder they have done wonders for me. At times my heart would beat violently, and my nerves seemed to be all out of order, but after using a few boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I feel like recommending them to others that they might receive benefit as I did."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have been on the market for the past twenty years, and are universally considered to be unrivalled as a medicine for all disorders of the heart or nerves.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c per box, 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct at special price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Then a friend paid his fare to a United States city, where he was offered a job in another silverplate factory. Six months later a little invention of his came to the notice of the management who took it over, paying the inventor a royalty and making him superintendent of the works. If he had not been thrown out of his other job he would have grubbed along there for life.

Another case in point was that of a young Toronto youth who thought he would like to become a railroad man. His application was in for a job as fireman, and the day his arm was shot off while out hunting he had a call to go to work. But the arm was off and he couldn't. Later he went back to school, graduated with honors, and is now a highly paid college professor. But he had to lose his arm to get started right.

The Edmonton school board has decided to suspend temporarily, owing to difficulty in financing, the kindergarten, music and arts departments.

USE MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS FOR A SLUGGISH LIVER.

When the liver becomes sluggish it is an indication that the bowels are not working properly, and if they do not move regularly many complications are liable to set in.

Constipation, sick headache, bilious headache, jaundice, indigestion, water brash, catarrh of the stomach, etc., all come from a disordered liver.

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills stimulate the sluggish liver, clean the coated tongue, sweeten the obnoxious breath, clean away all waste and poisonous matter from the system, and prevent as well as cure all complaints arising from a liver which has become inactive.

Mrs. John V. Tanton, Birnam, Ont. writes: "I take great pleasure in writing you concerning the great value I have received by using your Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills for a sluggish liver. When my liver got bad, I would have severe headaches, but after using a couple of pills, I am not bothered with them any more."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a box, 50c a box, $1.00, at all dealers, or send direct on receipt of money by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

SERMON ON THE HAWKES CASE

The following is a synopsis of the sermon preached in the Methodist church on Sunday evening last by Rev. M. L. Wright. The text was II Peter 2, 1-12.

"These words of our text, and of a great extent the words of a whole chapter, are particularly applicable to a certain class of sensationalists, and would be particularly applicable to all their views upon certain public questions are presumptuous enough to attack some of the most sacred principles of justice, and by the scourge of sarcastic comment, infamous gossip, and railing accusation, in matters where they are ignorant, try to intimidate and subvert judge and jury; reviling them because they do not perjure themselves and, contrary to their oath of office, deliver judgment, not according to the evidence submitted, but in accordance with a weak and futile sentimentalism."

With this paragraph the pastor introduced his sermon on the Order, Justice and Truth vs. Sentimentalism, with special reference to the Hawkes case. The sermon had been previously announced and the church and four adjoining Sunday school rooms were crowded to the doors.

He said the sentimentalists had confounded other movements with their own, and under the guise of advocating them had reviled a judge for convicting a cold-blooded murderer, and for pronouncing the only sentence which his oath of office would permit him to give, when a verdict of guilty was brought in by the jury.

Continuing, he said, they had nudged heroes of a relentless murderers, and heroes of men whose evidence revealed them to be cave-droppers and cowards, and so closely associated with the murder that people were asking why they have not been brought to trial, and given an opportunity to prove that they are innocent or else punished if they are guilty.

Justice and Truth said why one of these men bought a revolver at this time? Why the owner put it in his brother's trunk? If Jennie Hawkes were allowed to trial, and given an opportunity to prove that they are innocent or else punished if they are guilty. Justice and Truth said why one of these men bought a revolver at this time? Why the owner put it in his brother's trunk? If Jennie Hawkes were allowed to trial, and given an opportunity to prove that they are innocent or else punished if they are guilty. Justice and Truth said why one of these men bought a revolver at this time? Why the owner put it in his brother's trunk? If Jennie Hawkes were allowed to trial, and given an opportunity to prove that they are innocent or else punished if they are guilty.

Yet, on the testimony of these men, whose evidence was not only prejudiced but contradictory; on the testimony of a man who can look out of a building and see what is going on at a house which is southeast of that building, and upon the testimony of a madhouse who had welcomed her victim to her home and who left her home and for ten days liberated on the bloody act, and then returned and after friendly salutations shot down the mother of three little children, in less than a month after and entertained her until she could get settled in her own; upon the evidence of these and especially upon the evidence of the madhouse, who upon the witness stand shrewdly tried to throw suspicion upon an innocent man to free herself—upon this evidence these sentimentalists brand a dead woman with infamy calling her a mistress, a paramour, and a prostitute, when there was not one iota of unproved or trustworthy evidence brought forward to prove her impure. He said we needed a new divorce law which would treat rich and poor alike, needed a new adultery law that could punish the guilty and which the guilty one was a man see that provision was made for the wife and child. We needed both a public opinion and a law which would punish the vile slanderers of dead and living alike, and particularly the "respectable" panders of vile gossip not supported by evidence—the peddlars of a half-truth with a sting in it.

In closing the sermon he said: "Sentimentalism brings forth the cry of mercy. It calls for a second chance, perhaps to destroy another victim; it shouts for a fair deal but it butters truth and the otherness of a priceless heritage—a mother's good name. It cries or mercy after the just vicious deed the attempt to throw suspicion upon an innocent man is done, after the apparent frame-up has fallen down. Yes, Sentimentalism cries for mercy, and because it is so dramatic, so literary, it recites Portia's address on mercy, forgetting that the by-laws in this case has already cited the prompt of flesh and blood the Shylock of Shakespeare received no mercy at the hands of Portia."

But justice also cries for mercy, in words as effective and eloquent, if not so poetic as Portia's. It pleads for a fair deal for the woman whose voice is silenced, but whose reputation lives on into time; it asks for a second lot for a first chance for the little girls that they may enter life with an unblemished name. It cries for mercy with the voice of a Rosella, Stoley crying, "Mrs. Hawkes don't shoot. Please don't shoot."

It cries for mercy with the voice of a woman who loved her children, and who wished to direct their footsteps with the gentleness and terror of a little Elsie Stoley pleading for her mother; but Sentimentalism pumps out the cold lead into the body and brain of the victim and when the light of life is gone out forever this same sentimentalism in the name of social reform keeps pumping the cold lead over the prostrate form into her reputation and into the hearts of the little ones whom she loved.

"I am not making a plea for the destruction of a poor old woman. I hope the end of capital punishment is near at hand but I call in the interests of Truth, Justice and Morality upon the Women's organizations in this city to denounce and direct their footsteps in the true tradition of pure womanhood."

"THE GIRL FROM NOWHERE" AT ANGUS THEATRE

"The Girl From Nowhere," which comes to the Angus Theatre on Tuesday, December 7, is distinctly more interesting than the usual musical comedy in that it has consistency and, where its episodic interpolations are introduced, they are at the least deftly.

Thus some very substantial amusement is afforded by Mr. Ben Overath a detective disguised as a floor walk in a big department store. His treatment of the customers, although at times propounded in a humorous and has a spontaneity about it that is a relief from the conventionalities passed down from one comedian to the other.

Miss Zara Clinton, as Molly, the girl from nowhere, has the kind of qualities and attractions that get over the footlights in a personal and intimate way. She is singing or talking to you and not to the vague general public at large.

The opera is remarkable for the potency of its songs, and some of the dances that accompany them are lastingly convincing.

Mr. John V. Barrett-Leonard, as Capt. Arthur Stanton, is the centre of the romantic love interest.

There are twenty-four song numbers, each better than the last, one of the most effective numbers being "The Midnight Chimes," sung by the ladies' sextette, which is a veritable jewel of magnitude in color, animation and tunefulness. The entire production, which is in two acts and four scenes, is beautifully staged and elaborately costumed. The curtain will ring up at 8.30 sharp, owing to the length of the performance, which runs two hours and twenty minutes.

POOL FASHIONS

In summertime the girl wore lure, which must have been distressing, and much discomfort then was hers, or I am badly guessing. I well remember Susan Jane wrapped up in seal and ermine, when everything on the plain, in a sizzling heat was equine! And yet she uttered no complaint, most martyrlike of creatures, although the heat dissolved her paint until it ran down her features. Some brand new fad in winter wear she'll spring on us well may I trust her, when blizzards frolic and will wear a fan and linen duster. We'll see in the howling storm, a simple frock, not her, and she will say she is quite warm, when a snow and hail-storms pound her. Girls would commit, in Fashion's name all crimes, clear up to treason, at her decree the modern dame abandonment and reason (And here the housefrau says to me, "The men are just as silly; they'll go as far as Style's decree, at any blooming folly. The hat you wear gives me the blues, the shirt has gaudy priming, you're always wearing pointed shoes, although they keep you limping. You linen collar saves your ears, your pin has plate glass in it, you'd better quit this banding jerry to wot on every minute."—Walt Mason.

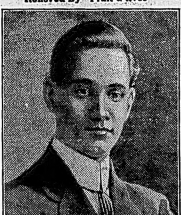

THE SECRET OF A GOOD COMPLEXION

Did it ever occur to you that there is a reason for your sallower complexion, pimples, blackheads and other skin blemishes? Your skin, when healthy, has to excrete 15 per cent of the waste matter of the body! If the pores become clogged, this poisonous waste is imprisoned and skin troubles follow. To rid yourself of these blemishes the skin must be cured of its sluggishness. This is just what Zam-Buk does. Zam-Buk is composed of stimulating and healing herbal essences, which penetrate the skin and enable it to expel the accumulated poisonous waste matter. A clear, healthy complexion is your reward.

The folly of endeavoring to cover up skin disfigurements with powders and other cosmetics is quite apparent. Use Zam-Buk; remove the root cause of the trouble, and enjoy a good complexion which cannot be exchanged for a thin means. Apply Zam-Buk at night when retiring, and wash with Zam-Buk soap.

CAMROSE.

(From The Canadian)

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Martin last Monday. Twins, a boy and a girl, were born to Mr. and Mrs. John Matson near Hay Lake, yesterday.

There are a number of cases of chicken pox in town at the present time.

Thirty-eight children attending the school three miles north of Hay Lake were vaccinated by a local doctor yesterday. In this particular instance the school district paid the cost.

The C.N.R. steel laying gang is making excellent progress and a new 21 miles southeast of Camrose. There have been no delays of any description and the slight fall of snow on the grade did not hinder their progress. Steel has been arriving almost daily and there is not at the present time, any likelihood of a hold-up in the work.

To be awakened from a peaceful slumber in the front end of a wagon, with the sensation of being struck by a heavy moving object, and to be hurled through the air finally landing to find his wagon box over him, seems to be more like a horrible nightmare than an actuality, but this, nevertheless, was the experience of one, Andrew Rolof, a farmer living some 12 or 13 miles north of town, last Saturday evening when his wagon was struck by the C.N.R. passenger train two miles north of town. He was only slightly injured.

"THE STURDY GIRD."

NEW PATRIOTIC SONG

The men of the 63rd Battalion have been made the subject of a new patriotic song, which has been put on the local market. This song which is the work of Edmonton musicians, bears the title, "The Sturdy Gird."

It is a very catchy piece of work. It has a stirring accompaniment in march time, and the chorus is singable, an important point in songs of this type.

The words are as follows: When the troops parade with their glided braid and the banners waving high; When the bugles bray and the bandmen play at the Sixty-third go by; When the girls turn out and the people shout, at the sight of the marching men.

When the flags wave proud o'er the cheering crowd—it is great to be a soldier then.

CHORUS: Every man in the Sixty-third has someone at home that's dear; And we'll bid the trail for our old home town when we've finished our duty here.

We're fighting for Empire, peace and right, and we'll struggle tyrant's greed.

The sturdy men of the Sixty-third are boys of the bull-dog breed.

When you're face to face with an alien race on the field of ravaged France; When the shot and shell in a man-made hell are leading a devil's dance; You will rest secure if your hearts are pure and your strength be the strength of men.

You will win the fight, for your cause is right, no stand to your guns like men.

Chorus—Every man in the etc.

WHAT A BOARD OF TRADE DID

Millet is a little town about half the size of Cochrane, situated on the Calgary and Edmonton branch of the C.P.R. A little over three years ago it had Rip Van Winkle backed into the corner as a consequence of the long sleep. If you asked a man from Millet where he lived he would most likely apologize for living there. Then some enterprising citizen had a brilliant idea. He said to himself, "Let there be a board of trade."

After much work on the part of a few who wanted to make Millet a better place to live in, there was a board of trade. Then the town entered into a new era.

About that time the C.P.R. closed up the station. The board of trade got the railway commissioners on the other end of the wire and showed them so many good reasons the station should be kept open that they induced the railway to open it.

Now regular trains stop there every day. Then they put on a campaign to get all the farmers in the district to join the organization. When they had the annual banquet the next spring there were so many farmers present that it looked like a U.F.A. picnic. They got out booklets telling about the district and everyone sent one to each of his friends and over a score of new homes and settled there. New places of business were opened up to supply the increased demand for the goods. The board of trade provided tennis courts for the town, got a band organized, got the first prize at the Edmonton exhibition for the best district exhibit, and did a dozen other things for the town, where everyone said the country was going to the bow-wow because there was a business depression.

Much of this happened while the Cochrane board of trade was dying a painful death. The moral is a plain that we do not need to take up valuable space to state it—Cochrane Advocate.

MILLET

John Blades, a well-known young man of this town, died very suddenly of heart failure last Wednesday evening. He had just returned the previous day from a hunting trip west of town and had spent the greater portion of the day after his return with his companions around the town. He went home for dinner about 5:30 and while his mother was preparing it he went out into the back yard.

Shortly afterwards his father came and went out to look for him, being alarmed at his long stay. He found the young man lying on the floor of the barn at the rear of the property apparently dead. Dr. Baker was immediately summoned, but pronounced life extinct.

The mounted police officer was immediately communicated with and Dr. Stevenson conducted an exhaustive inquiry. The result of the examination was the decision that the young man had died of heart failure and that an inquest would not be necessary, as it had been known that his heart was weak.

Deceased was a young man of 20 years of age and had recently returned from harvesting near Staveland.

Had Dyspepsia.

Says HE NEARLY TURNED UP HIS TOES.

Mr. H. N. Manderson, Settler, Alta., writes: "About twenty-five years ago, in the Province of Quebec, I came pretty near turning up my toes with dyspepsia. A cousin of mine persuaded me to try Burdock Blood Bitters. In about two weeks I could eat anything from raw fat pork to uncooked bread. Three bottles did the job, and I have never been troubled with my stomach since. You would say that this is wonderful if you would only see what we sometimes have to live on in this country; bannock, half cooked beans, etc."

Burdock Blood Bitters has been on the market for the past forty years, and cannot be excelled as a medicine for all diseases or disorders of the stomach.

SEASONABLE HINTS

"The real test of a farmer, is perhaps, in his ability to make the most profitable use of the various products of his farm and his foresight in getting ready in every practicable way between harvest and the seed time for the productive operations of the next season." Thus states Mr. J. H. Grisdale, director, Dominion experimental farms, in presenting Seasonable Hints for November, December, January and February, to the farming public of Canada. A careful perusal of its sixteen pages will amply reward the stockman, the agriculturist, the horticulturist, the poultryman, the tobacco grower, and those especially interested in bees. A feature of this third issue is the advice under the caption "Shelter the Implements". The entirety of the vast mass of money spent annually on farm machinery is impossible of realization. To equip an average farm with machinery costs about $1,000, which under ordinary conditions of treatment, will not do good work for more than five years. To counteract this waste, shelters should be built. A working plan of a shed 25 by 47 feet outside measurements is given, with directions necessary for its construction. A careful study of this plan, which, as stated, is capable of many modifications, will be helpful to those intending to build. To those, therefore, who would have a compendium of information, which outlines many necessary fall and winter duties pertaining to agriculture in all its phases, Seasonable Hints, No. 3, is available on application to the Publications branch, department of agriculture, Ottawa.

The Patriotic Fund

The work of organizing the Wetaskiwin Constituency in the interests of the Patriotic Fund has just been completed and everywhere from Bitter Lake on the east to Yeoford on the west, the subscription lists are in circulation and it is the national duty of every person whose financial circumstances permit to subscribe to this worthy object. Since October 1, when the campaign started it was estimated that six million dollars would meet the requirements of the Fund throughout Canada. With the additional call for another hundred thousand men that has been made, the Fund will require $9,000,000 for the year. Wetaskiwin must not be content to raise merely the five thousand dollars required, but should raise about $5,000.00 and if everybody gives something this amount can easily be reached. Most encouraging reports are coming in from all over the province and in every instance they have surpassed the allotted amounts. The following is a complete list of all officers and committees throughout the Wetaskiwin constituency. If your local committee has not yet seen you, make it a point to call on them and subscribe to the Fund.
